

MR. D. Y. COOPER—A PROGRESSIVE NORTH CAROLINIAN.

The CHRONICLE is glad to give its readers a likeness of Mr. D. Y. COOPER, of Henderson, whose success in the Tobacco Warehouse business has been truly phenomenal. He was born on a farm and raised on a farm, and knows all about tobacco from the seed to the manufactured article. His warehouse in Henderson, which was described in a recent issue of the STATE CHRONICLE, is the roomiest one in the State and his own pluck and grit and capacity has made it pay him handsomely.

Mr. Cooper began business in an unpretentious warehouse in 1873, where he sold 300,000 pounds of tobacco, and his business has grown until now, he sells nearly ten million pounds every year, and the business keeps right on growing. Mr. Cooper belongs to the progressive men of the New South who have been too wise to sit still in the ashes of despair, but have gone forward to make this as prosperous a country as the sun shines on. It is such men as Mr. Cooper who have made the industrial progress in the State, and it is upon such enterprising and progressive men that the future of the State depends. Mr. Cooper is ambitious for the commercial and industrial progress of the State, and no man of his years has surpassed him in his labors or successful achievements in the line of his life-work. As a farmer he is equally as great a success as in his warehouse. He makes a net dividend of 20 percent, on each of his three farms. His success has been of great value to the whole community and section in which he lives, and it has been a stimulus to other ambitious young men. Popular and progressive, he is but on the threshold of greater financial success. He deserves it all and the CHRONICLE hopes one day to see him have a cool million. He will use it for public purposes and will continue to help carry on the enterprises that are making the State rich.

VANCE IS RIGHT.

Capt. Kitchen Replies to Clodhopper's Criticism of Vance.

(Special Cor. STATE CHRONICLE.)

SCOTLAND NECK, N. C., March 20.—Clodhopper may be a life-long Democrat and a mighty good man, and may not be able to see any deeper into the millstone than the maker. If our recollection serves us a right, "our Zeb" voted against the oleomargarine law, because he believed it to be unconstitutional and a usurpation of power on the part of the Federal government. Where does the general government get the power to step into the States and say to a citizen or a combination of citizens what they shall raise on their farms, or what they shall manufacture in their shops, or what they shall produce by a combination of skill, genius and materials. From our standpoint "our Zeb" was exactly right in his vote if we remember aright as to his vote. As to returning the direct tax collected on real estate during the war, we also think "our Zeb" the noblest Roman of them all and the best friend the people have in the State. He was exactly right in his vote on the bill to return the tax. Why should the twenty millions of dollars collected out of the real estate in the United States during the war be returned to these land owners any more than the hundreds of millions and billions which were collected during and since the war from all classes should be returned? Why not return the eighty millions collected out of the South on cotton since the war? Vance moved that amendment and the North voted it down, and "our Zeb" did right to see them all in Hades before voting to return twenty millions of just taxation, so far as the North was concerned, when that same North refused to return to the South sixty or eighty million dollars of unjust, unequal taxation, levied and collected from the South out of malice and as vengeance and contrary to the letter and spirit of the Constitution.

The tax gathered from "Clodhopper" and his neighbors and friends during the war on real estate by the Federal government was no greater wrong and outrage, no more unjust and unconstitutional, and stands on no higher ground of equity and even-handed justice than the thousands of other wrongs and outrages committed by the vandals upon the defenseless people of the South during the civil war between the sections. And neither equity, common sense nor justice demands the return of that tax any more than they demand that the value of all the property taken and destroyed of every kind in the South during the war, should be returned or paid over to the rightful owners. I have nothing against "Clodhopper." I am a hopper myself, without the clod, and I find it desperately hard to hop, skip or jump in times of lamentation and distress. And I feel sure that he will agree with me when he thinks seriously on the subject, that "Zeb" is right ninety and nine times out of every hundred.

But now I have somewhat agin "Our Zeb." He did not like fair in joining the Ingalls crowd in condemning Senator Call for doing just what every member of Congress has done from time out of mind, that is to correct the phraseology of or dictum of his speech made in Congress before published in the Record, provided the idea or sense is not changed. Vance and Ransom both, from my standpoint, did wrong in this. But I may be wrong in my judgment and they may be right. Now let me tell you, Vance is a wheel-horse, a whole league and battalion within himself; the brainiest man in the State, the most honest political leader, and one of the best friends to the farmers in all the land; yes, as good and as true a friend to the farmers and poor people as the writer and clodhopper himself, and when that is said, enough has been said.

Now, Mr. Editor, I am glad "Clodhopper" has boldness, manhood and hone, y enough to criticise our big men. Our people do not watch and criticise our public men enough. A bad man ought to be watched and criticised, and a good man don't mind being watched and criticised, because it polishes and purifies the metal that is in him. "Clodhopper's" letter is in place, it is very dignified, manly, bold, honest and courteous; and thus everybody ought to be when they write or speak. He has done our great Senator no wrong, but simply wants to understand from the fountain head why that "Tribune of the people" so voted. That is right, he has a right to know and ought to know. Let every servant of the people be held to a strict responsibility for his official conduct, and made by the clodhoppers to give an honest account of his or their stewardship. The intelligent, honest clodhopper must save this country or she is lost. It will not do longer to trust the demagogues and time server. The man at the plow must assert his manhood and make his power felt, or the old ship will soon be stranded.

W. H. KITCHEN.

LOTTERIES MUST GO.

The Massachusetts Legislature Adopts Stringent Measures Against Them.

BOSTON, March 20.—In the legislature yesterday the judiciary committee reported a bill to make the printing, advertising, issuing or delivery of anything pretending to be a lottery ticket prima facie evidence of the existence of such lottery, and the delivery of such a ticket prima facie evidence of the receipt by the company of the money for it.

This bill, it is thought, put an end to the enormous business of the Louisiana concern in Massachusetts.

No Lottery Will Be Allowed in the Choctaw Nation.

MUSKOGEE, I. T., March 18.—The following circular has been issued, addressed to the Chief and others of the Choctaw Nation:

UNITED STATES INDIAN SERVICE, UNION AGENCY, MUSKOGEE, I. T., March 17, 1890.

I am directed by the Honorable Commissioner of Indian Affairs to notify you, and each of you, that no lottery drawing will be permitted within the limits of the agency; that the presence among the Choctaw or other Indians of persons attempting to engage in such proceedings will be considered as detrimental to the peace and welfare of the Indians, and they will be dealt with under the law accordingly.

I have this day directed the United States Indian police that if any attempts are made by any persons to set up or operate any such lottery the paraphernalia be seized and such persons arrested and held for instructions.

Respectfully, LEO F. BENNETT, United States Indian Agent.

CULPABLE NEGLIGENCE.

The Railroad Management Blamed and the Conductor Personally Responsible.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 19.—The coroner's jury in the case of the accident on the Lake Shore and Michigan Railroad tracks, where, on the 16th of March, six persons were killed by an accident, find that the management of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad Company should be charged with gross negligence, for the reason that the rules and regulations for the running of their trains are not strictly enforced, and that the safety of passengers is endangered thereby; that Division Superintendent Couch had knowledge of the unsafe and crippled condition of the road, and that this wreck would not have happened if he had exacted a rigid and enforcement of the rules; and that the conductor is personally responsible for culpable negligence.

TWO MORE ARRESTS.

The Investigation in the Sheriff's Office in New York Goes On.

There have been two more arrests caused by the investigation of the Sheriff's office in New York. Deputy Sheriff Young was indicted for sharing in the $750 illegally obtained from Franklyn and Deputy Clerk Lindeman for helping to swindle Mrs. Oleon out of $12.50. Mayor Grant still asserts that under his administration there was no dishonesty or corruption in the office.
